*This is a powerful proprietary statistical short-term indicator that measures the degree of a stock being OVER BOUGHT or OVER SOLD. Volatility between 95% and 100% (red arrow down) is a good exit point in which to take profit since the stock is expected to decline within approximately one week. Volatility that is between 95% and 100% (green arrow up) indicates a BUY as the stock is expected to increase in price at least for a short period of time.
